Other comments or suggestions:

The author assessed the financial position and performance of three companies operating in the steel industry in India.

The thesis has a logical structure, the methods used are appropriate. I also appreciate the included balance sheets and income statements of the companies, as an evidence for the calculations.

Objections are related to the literary sources (their use and listing is not always in line with the required format and in some cases does not match), also the Tables are not titled correctly and are not always referenced in the comments or in the results.

The author had chosen companies which were already assessed in a previous thesis (which is not his fault, as the previous thesis was not submitted at the time of choice of the topic and companies). The rewrites resulted in the sometimes weird formulations.

I recommend the thesis for defense.

Plagiarism control: The system Theses.cz has assessed the thesis as suspicious. After a manual check the file was not assessed as plagiarism.
