Mr. Nemiah Magazine

Thesis title: Impact of the coronavirus (COVID 19) on the economy of the Developing countries.

A case study of Masvingo town, Zimbabwe.

Mr. Nemiah Magazine chose a very topical topic related to the impact of Covid on the economy of the Developing countries – focused on Masvingo town, Zimbabwe.

The student has built the thesis from the seven chapters, particularly from the literature review, objectives of the thesis, methodology, results, discussion, conclusion plus appendix.

The data were collected from the interview reports with government officials, local governments, residents' associations, international and local humanitarian organizations, working on social protection, and local residents. Interviews were placed online platforms or via phone calls.

The outputs fully correspond with the objectives and described methodologies that the student used in the thesis.

Chapter 5 "Discussion" the comprehensibly presents impact of COVID on the life and management in the city, from healthcare, education, job opportunities to energy constraints, etc.

Appropriately, the author performed an analysis of this data using SWOT analysis.

The thesis has its own informative ability and importance. From the formal point of view, the thesis has the proper structure, required for this category of the thesis.

Mr. Nemiah Magazine cooperated very well with the supervisor during the diploma thesis preparation.

The thesis written by Mr. Nemiah Magazine complies with all formal requirements and I do recommend it for defense in front of the faculty state committee.

My final assessment as thesis supervisor is: Very Good
