Other comments or suggestions:

As far as the extent is concerned, this thesis resembles one of a Bachelor's program. There has been obvious effort to extend/stretch the size by adding unnecessary gaps, e.g. 6 pages of literature references. That is just too excessive and straining one's eyes. On the other hand, literary part consists of 8 pages only, including images and graphs, and project itself 12 pages. Conclusion is very brief, barely half a page. The thesis is too brief overall. The proposed extent is stated to be 60-80 pages in Thesis Assignment. The Thesis may have 40, when it comes to proper text page count. What is a pity.

It would have been beneficial to explain/describe more in detail e.g. GDP or a brief description of strategies to combat poverty in regards to GDP in countries of the world, or, types/specifics or poverty issues.

Some of the sentences do not make sense, e.g.: Thus, poverty is recognized as an important problem if the world population which must be overtaken.

Questions for thesis defence:

What type of strategy should Congo government adopt in order to fight poverty there?

What type of strategy shall use more developed countries, where the economic growth has a small effect on the poverty level by your findings?
