Other comments or suggestions:

The thesis is focused on the analysis of the relationship of consumers to organic food and identify factors (interest in health, knowledge and the environment) that to influence consumers' attitudes towards organic food and their purchasing intention in Indonesia. The topic is very interesting and current, especially in the Asian context. The process of data collection in the study area was significantly affected by the Covid-19 pandemic and the student therefore collected data in the form of an online questionnaire. There was also a delay in data collection, which resulted in a lack of time for data analysis. I would recommend focusing more on both the analysis of the data obtained and the description of the results. Despite these shortcomings, I appreciate the student's efforts and her activity.
